Teach friends or family

- Teaching others is perhaps one of the best ways to actually revise and learn yourself.
- Get with a group of friends and see who needs help on what topics and teach each other or as a group.
- You can also grab a friend or family member who doesn't do your course and give them a lesson to help your.
- Alternatively, record yourself 'teaching' a subject and then listen to it as you walk in or in the car.
