Over half term

Have you created a revision timetable for half term? If not, consider the following elements:

1. Coverage: begin by noting the exams you have left, in particular the first week back e.g. maths and English Language;
2. Aim to do some revision every day BUT factor in some significant breaks e.g. do half days on 2-3 days;
3. Do 45 mins. revision and then 10 mins. break;
4. It's as important to test yourself on what you've revised as simply revise, so factor in looking back over the previous day's notes;
5. If you don't know how to start, look back over these revision posts for ideas.
